By order of the Board.

ALEXANDER J. RALSTON, See

GENTLEMEN,—I beg to call your cornest attention to the following corresp ndence, a great principle being involved.

I remain yours obediently.

FREDK, LEE.

2, Bridge-street, 21st April, 1876.

To A. J. Ralston, Esq., Secretary to the Australian Mutual Provident S-ciety.
Sydney, 23rd March, 1876.
Dear Sir,—Herewith I beg to had you a series of resolutions which it is my intention of moving at the next general annual meeting advertised to take place on the 26th proxime.

Sydney, March 25, 1878,

A. J. Ralston, secretary to A. M. P. Society.

Str.—I am in pressession of yours of 24th March. I note your remarks, "I hast the Board considers it would be inconvenient, &c." I have yet to bear that member has to study the convenience of the Directors, and as ANY member is clearly entitled by the first paragraph of the XIX. By-law (commencing, "and to consider, &c.," terminating at "given") to being forward ANY MUSINSS irrespective of the likings of dishkings of the Directors, I insist on my right to move the resolutions, and also say emphatically that you are not justified by ANY MUSINSS irrespective of the Society in ex luding them from the alvertisement of the samual meeting, my notice having been given within the time mention-do yith By-law. The paragraph you refer to of "the proper mode, &c.," only refers to spectal, and Nort to samual general meetings. To admit your doctrine would be in effect to debar members bringing forward at annual meetings cases even of corruption.

Duar Sir,—I am in receipt of yours of this day, from the tenor of which it glean that your Board have determined to persevere in their illegal course of action. The matter now assumes a more important phase, involving a principle in which all, the members of the society are deeply interested. It is my intention, therefore, to adopt such a course as I deem most conductive to the general interests of the members and the society at large.

I remain, dear Sir, yours truly.

MAILAROO FOOTBALL CLUB—Annual General MEETING, TO-NIGHT, Eschange Hotel, 8 o'clock.

RD. A. ARNOLD, Hos. Socretary.

BUILDING. A USTRALIAN MUTUAL SOCIETY.

It is very desirable that there should be a full attendance of members at the Annual Meeting to be hild on the 26th Instant.

Among other matters it is reported that the sanction of members will be asked to an expenditure of £80,000 (eighty thousand pounds) on the new offices in Pitt-street. At the last annual meeting we were informed that they would cost £30,000: in other words, an increase in the estimate, if I am correctly informed, to the amount of £50,000.

Under these circumstances it is right that members of the seciety should have a little time for reflection.

In order to arrive at a right conclusion, some such questions as the following may be put to the chairman of the meeting:—

meeting:—

1. What did the new site cost?

2. What is the liability on the present contract for foundations, including the architect's commission?

3. What is the estimate for the superstructure to be rected on the foundations, including the architect's commission, and any other charge for supervision, and whether any tenders have been invited for the work?

4. Whether the estimate, if there be any, includes the cost of office liftings, safes, furniture, and other appliances, and, if not, what is the probable cost of the same?

The members would then have clearly before them—1. The actual liability or cost of the work to date. And, 2. The intended only in its entirety.

It renewed discussion of the question, and that is in itself a benefit, while discussion romains free from scrimony, for the education of the people is not on an entirely satisfactory basis, and 'progress' must still be the watch word. It has hed another good result: it has led to this admirable sucception, which Dr. Barry makes in the Hench of waterday:—

"This is my proposition. Let us form an association for the supply of religious instruction in the Public schools. Where the initiaters of the different denominations cannot by combination acted a school sufficiently often, let this association provide funds to enable them, et any one of them, to procure a substitute for that hour. and fails to do so. New Zealand seems to perhaps precipitating the day when European have worked out the most attractive portions influence will be distinctly felt in the great of its ground, and at the Thames Gold-near the 'mines have lately proved so unproductive that labour is said to be in excess, and, as an act of charity, men are being removed to other districts. In New South Wales the glories of Hill End seem to consolidation of the Merchant Shipping law, and these is reason to believe that a they have to expect.

from rushing towards rich alluvial We have seen them flock to the tablelands of Otago which in wintry weather are cold and bleak; But neither heat nor snow arrests the that many more will come back disappointed, than will come back with a fortune. These circumstances are incident to rushes of the likely to take place. But the regular migra- vitality and vigour might have the stamina to bear up against it, have been proud of their strength, and in having passed dence in their good luck, and courage enough to face anything. But it wants all their confidence and all their courage to stand the trials of the semi-tropical climate of North Queensland. The European constitution adapts itself only slowly to this climate under the most avourable circumstances. Even with house built to secure coolness, and with coloured abour available to do the hard outdoor work, Europeans preserve only a languid existence life of a gold digger on a new rush is as little as possible like the life that Europeans mostly lead in warm climates: he has not suitable habitations, and he engages in hard Europeau constitution to the severest trials, and it requires an immense amount of to fever, to ague, to dysentery, we do not fully know. Very many have died without any southward show visibly in their countenances the effect of European labour in a tropical country. It may be well doubted, too, whether risks and hardships. We know the number of ounces that are brought away from Cooktown, invested to procure that gold. It is impossible to make the calculation; but if it could be often show the balance on the wrong side of that the ship wes sent to see in an un and that if the one gold-field will not support the population that is tending thither, others may be found that will assist to maintain them. There is said to be a rich reefing country that will reward both Isbeur and country that will reward both labour and capital for many years to come, and that will furnish a steady production of gold. One thing is encouraging to gold-miners, and that is that the value of gold is steadily maintained. Notwithstanding the enormous quantity that has been produced within the last twenty-five years, it has all been absorbed and the money markets of the world are asking for more. The arrivals of Australian gold ships are looked for in London as eagerly as ever, and the Mints of the world require all that can be supplied. In fact, America has still to restore its gold currency, and Germany has not yet completed the task on which it is engaged. However productive therefore any new gold-field may be, there seems to be no fear of a glut of gold in the markets of the world. Silver has fallen in price, partly because it has been pushed out by gold, but the more precious metal maintains its value.

The rush to the peninsula of Carpentaria is likely to cause the pastoral occupation of everything in that peninsula that is worth having, and we may expect soon to see every-where stations all the way to Cape York; and the line of telegraph will in that case not improbably be pushed on to Somerset. It may become a convenient port of call for vessels trading between Australia and the East, whence communications may be forwarded to mercantile agents in the great Australian cities. Prompt telegraphic com-munication with Somerset will also be useful to those engaged in the fisheries in the northern seas, and will have special value in connec-tion with any schemes for settlement on the north of Queensland. That colony is the only one at present which seems able to hold up the attractive magnet of rich alluvial ground. Victoria is hard pushed to retain it.

The northern gold-fields of South Australia have proved to some extent a delusion, although there is doubtiess still recting work to be done there. But, though the other colonies "pale their ineffectual fire," the torch of Queensland still burns bright. It is the one colony of the Australasian group which now holds out to the miner the never-failing charm, and it is drawing the migratory population to a very visible extent. Steamers are going a very visible extent. Steamers are going stead of meeting the movement for re-northward crowded with men in search of their form with a desultory and disunited fortune, mostly men who have previously en-gaged in a similar chase after the same capri-have held in London probably the largest meetcious dame, and who know pretty well what ing ever assembled in connection with their interest,-a meeting at which every great Noamount of hardship seems to deter miners port in England was represented. They have promised their support to any well-considered measure for saving life at sea. They have we have seen them in this colony flock to the question in an address, which has been Kiandra also in the depth of winter, and submitted to the Government. And they have tramp through snow in search of the precious appointed a representative standing committee metal; and now we see them rushing to the in London, to watch the progress of legislation, far north of Australia, where they have to —a step which will facilitate the work both encounter climatic extremes of the opposite of the Ministry and of Parliament.

The meeting referred to affirmed that the recent and continual changes in the law as to merchant shipping had been most hanceing; that the legislation had been fragmentary and exploration of country supposed to be rich in alluvial deposits. It is possible merchant shipping had been most harseing; that many more will go north to Cooktown then will come back again, and ill-considered; and that the law ought to be simplified and codified. The merchant ship ping interest of Great Britain is undoubtedly ue of its most important interests; but the kind. Nobody knows the risks better than Legislature has borne testimony to its imthose who go to encounter them. These portance in a remarkable manner. According those who go to encounter them. These migrations have happened so often now, that the population that chiefly indulges in them is thoroughly familiar with all their incidents, and is as well fitted as any population can be to incur the inevitable hardships. If this rush were the first of its kind, and if sedentary people were leaving their desks and the interval of the first of its kind, and if sedentary people were leaving their desks and the interval of the first of its kind, and if sedentary people were leaving their desks and the interval of the first of the first of its legislation is a record of "a series of measures to bit the start of the first of the their benches to expose themselves in large numbers to the inclemency of the weather and a new climate, we might look for a much larger amount of sickness and mortality than is tory digger is a seasoned campaigner, who is beneath the weight of so much interference accustomed at a pinch to the roughest of Even as it is, statistics were quosed living and to the smallest of shelter, and he is at the meeting to show that for some time hardened by long exposure to the in-clemency of the weather. In the battle of life those who have attempted this sort of life, and who have not had merely temporary phenomenon, due to changes the stamina to bear up against it, have been of ownership that took place during and after weeded out; the strongest have survived, and the close of the Continental war. But the circumstance is nevertheless worth noting, through many similar trials they have confidence in their good luck, and courage enough are at work. It cannot be denied that great difficulty attends legislation affecting the shipping interest. Where so many lives are in the nature of the case placed in circumstances of unusual peril, and where the danger may be indefinitely increased by the neglect or the greed of owners, legislative interference of some sort is demanded for humanity's sake. But the interference carried too far, or conceived unwisely, may save the lives of British sailors on British ships, but transfer the shipping trade itself to other countries, and by destroying the British shipping interest cast many thousands who nov depend upon its prosperity for employment, into want and misery.

Strong exception was taken to the clause of the Act of 1875 which throws upon the person vitality and energy to come safely out of who sends a ship to sea and upon the man-these trials. How many have succumbed aging owner, the burden of proving that all reasonable means were used to ensure seeworthiness. When a ship is sent to set record, and even many of those who return in such unseaworthy state that the life of any person would be likely to be endangered thereby, the person who sends her to see and the managing owner there is any financial compensation for the are held guilty of manslaughter unless that proof be given. This, it was argued, is con-trary to the principle of law which enables but we never know all that has been lost or even the murderer caught redhanded to put the Crown to proof of his guilt. cases, however, are not parallel, and besides made, a new, and even a good rush would it will be seen that the Crown must prove he le iger.

However, whatever the dangers, there is no show that they had relieved themselves of restopping the rush, and the whole of the sponsibility by taking proper precautions. C. CARE AND CO.—At their Booms, at 11, Clothing, Watches, &c., &c.

Sir Daniel Cooper was shortly coming out here, and the committee should strongly arge upon him to give the freshold for a site for the school.

Mr. W. J. TRICKET supported the resolution, as he looked upon it as one of the greatest possible privileges to be conducive to the welfare of the young.

Hev. Dr. BARRY also supported the motion. He pointed out the great increase in the number of children attending the Public school at Paddington during the past few years. They found people continuing to arrive and settle in Woollahra, and these people generally became fruitful, multiplied, and replembed the earth. Wherever a Public school was established it soon became filled. They could not fail to have the synapathies of the Government in this matter. There was no school supported by the State at Double Bay, or indeed in the whole municipality, except the Denominational school of St. Mark's, and no one could possibly believe that one school was sufficient for that large district. Many children were prevented from attending school at all on account of the distance. The Government seemed to have neglected to provide for the accommodation of the children in places near Sydney. It might have been thought that the Denominational schools filled up the ground, but on that side of Sydney they certainly did not. Instead of one they ought to have at least two schools there. He was glad to see that the coincation question had taken a wonderfully strong hold upon the convictions of the community, and although there might be diverse opinions, one thing seemed to be universally confessed at present—that the number of children within one schools ought to be decidedly increased before we arrive at a satisfactory account of the education of the people. The controversies have stirred up the people to think upon the matter. All parties had the same desire—to bring the children under some kind of instruction. Although he had taken a somewhat prominent part in advecating the length should have a noble mattin the part in the present movem

COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO MR. NATHAN. COMPLIMENTARY DINNER TO Mr. NATHAN.—
On Wednesday evening has anys the Braidwood Dispatch, a complimentary dinner was given at the Doncaster Hotel to Mr. Nathan, late manager of the Joint Stock Bank in this town, by a few of his friends, en the occasion of his departure from the district. Mr. De Boos occupied the chair.
The health of the guest was proposed by Mr. Cruig, who spoke in flattering terms of him as a business man. Mr.
Cucria, on behalf of the Braidwood Cricket Club, presented him with a handsome but, with an inscription upon it let in on a silver plate, in token of his valuable services in support of the "noble game" auring his residence in the district. MERCANTILEAND MONEY ARTICLE.

Transactions in the Import markets have not been large, but there was a moderate inquiry for trade parcels at prices for the most part in favour of buyers. Very little improve-ment is looked for until about the beginning of May, when country buyers are expected to operate more freely than they have for some time past. Breadstuffs remain firm. New Zealand wheat sold at 5s, 1d., Adelaide at 5s, 4d, to 5s. 5d., flour in request at £12 10s. to £12 15s. for best brands. Building materials unaltered There were some small transactions in candles There were some small transactions in candles at about 93d, for best brand. Coffee has been casier with a declining tendency; the Eunice, with a cargo from Columbo, arrived at Melbourne yesterday, and as the Fanny Fisher left at the same time her arrival here may be looked for at any hour. Currants are in good supply and prices weaker; raisins very plentiful at late rates. There have been no sales of drogs and chemicals; the same remark applies to Dundee goods. There is very little demand for rice, and fiveton lots are the extent of buyers' operations. Sugars are steady. BRING Noses.—A correspondent of the and Hervitt writes:—The first native reception was to his Excellency the Marquis of Normanby at muta, on the shore of Lake Rotorus, and a "veteral in," homoured the Marquis of Normanby by rabbing with him.

Extraordinary Drath.—An accident of an almost unprecedented nature in the hunting field recently occurred in Ceylon to a young gentleman named Behrend, who was learning coffee planting on the easte of Mr. C. B. Phipson, at Maskeylia. The Caylon Observer of March 2 thus describes the afair:—"On Saturday last, after the day's work was closed, Mr. Behrend went in pursuit of an elk which had been seen on the plantation. The animal came to bay in the river, and the coolies who accompanied their Sinna Dural wished to kill it with sileha and stones. This Behrend would not permit, and instead, without the aid of dors, he pluckily, but very rashly, went in himself initie in hand. The attempt would be a most dangerous one even for an eld experienced huntsman, for the elk was a large powerful buck, but poor Behrend had no chance, for instead of going at the elk sideways he seems to have gone up in front and caught at the creature's throat. There was of course a strugele, and the coolies saw Behrend fall back, while the clk broke sway. They rushed up at once and got their young master out of the water, but only to find him quite dead. The explanation seems to be that the fire with first this foot struck the poor fellow's hand with suchforce as to turn the knife back and right into his chest, if not through the heart. Death must have been almost instantaneous."

Poison from Coloured Stockings.—A number of cases (says the Travellers' Record) have been reported lately, of poisoning by the striped stockings now so rashionable. Ladies and children alike have been the sufferers. Pieric acid is said to be one of the dangerous ingredients used in the colouring.

Hotel, George-street.

Sydney, 18th April, 1876.

Inhabitants of Sydney, &c.—Ladies and gentlemen,—I beg to tender my thanks for the great interest you have taken une and in my welfare generally but I must express my extreme surprise and unqualified regreat at the want of knowledge which seems to pervade all classes of y. ur highly-respect-ble community about my native country. Japan—sp. cially my own highly-civilised province of Satzuma As I an about to settle down in sunny Australia, and as serhaps I may be fortunate, as many of my Celestial brei hren have been, and marry one of your fair countrywomen, I should like to get a concise instructive description of the land of my birth. Therefore, I bereby offer the sum of one gunes for the most interesting account of Japan generally, and of my own principality in particular.

N.B.—Entry of competitors will be made by W. B. Campbell, at the Royal Furnishing Arcade, where I may be sen until Saturday, the 22nd instant.—S.

On the everywhere is a solution of the innest impossible to avoid taking cold. However carefully we may adapt our costume to the requirements of the season, we can seldom be prepared for those sudder changes of temperature that may not only the everywhere the experiments of the season, we can seldom be prepared for those sudder changes of temperature that may not over common in Australia. Thus it is, that at all times of the year we are liable to suffer from what is generally known as Catarth, or Cold. The inequable perpiration having received an abrupt check, the blood that should glow freely and evenly to every part of the blood that should glow freely and evenly to every part of the blood that should glow freely and evenly to every part of the body is arrested, and forced back upon the lungs: a feeling of heavines and it pression pervades the whole system. The result is a cold, which if not properly attended to is succeeded by inflammation of the lungs, a quantity of tough, vised, phlegm is expectorated, heetic fevers and night sweats ensue, and ere long the sufferer is hurried to the grave, a victim of consumption. It is not too much to say that thousands are unconsciously carrying about with them the seeds of this awful sourge of the human race: while by the timely use of suitable remedies, this dreadful malady might be entirely eradicated from the system. Such a remedy is to be found in EAMBE'S HORE.

In submitting this grand selection of choice Stock to public competition, the Auctioneer feels that lengthened comment on his part is unnecessary, Mr. Fisher a efforts at improvement, in every description of Stock to which he has turned his attention, being so well and favourably known. Nevertheless, he may be permitted to point out to those interested in the restring of valuables minals, that such an opportunity as the present rarely indeed occurs: the time, strention, expenditure of skill and momey lavished upon them to bring them to their present state of excellence, being vibe work of a lifetime. The remunerative prices realized for the surplus sheep, catela, and horses, the position the wool lies so uniformly maintained for a long series of years in the house markets, and the long list of prises (too numerous to give in actenso) obtained in all sections whereas the breeder his competed, in the colonies, at home, and stroad, are an incontestable, proof of the quality and profitable character of the stock, which the suctionser confidently believes, as a whole, are the best over effered actose time in the southern lemisphere.

For full sparticulous of the above see extallegate, which with any further information, can be obtained at the offices of the Auctionser; or at the orifices of 2 Bill-LBY and OO, HARRISON, JONES, and DEVLIN beg to inform intending purchasers that they will hold their usual sale of purch stock, at the Exhibition Grounds, on WEDNESDAY, 29th April, at 10 o'ctock, when stock from the undermentioned breeders will be offered in

SHORTHORN CATTLE IN NEW SOUTH WALES.

G. F. WANT has the pleasure to announce that he has received in the control of th To that he has received instructions from that celebrated breeder of shorthorns, Mr. R. L. Jenkina, of Nepsan Towers, to sell by austican, at Wooller's Yards, Pitt-street, Sydney, on MONDAY, 24th April, 1876, at 11

Piti-street, Sydney, on MONDAY, 24th April, 1876, at 11 o'clock, 20 head bulls, from his Nepean Towers' herd of pure shorthorns, 16 of which are got by the champion bull Theodore (3014d), and 4 by the imported prise Townsley's Baron Collings 2nd.

Theodore had the homour of holding the position of champion of the colonies for four successive years, taking all leading pruses, including Lord Belmore's prize of £15 for the best animal in cattle section—140 entries. 36 of his calves have realised £4528, averaging over £234 each. All the females have been reserved from als, excepting one purchased for New Zealand, and the prise hefer Judy 8th sold at 11 months old to Mesers. Bell and Son, of Jimbour, Queensland, for 500 guiness, now the champion cow of that colony.

Baron Collings 2nd was bred by Colonel Townsley, of Lancashire, Engiand. He was exhibited eight times dur-ing the season of 1872, and received six first prices, one second, and one third. His pedigree is an extremely fashionable one, being a combination of the famed Bates and Butterfly bloods.

Cattle breeders of Australia are informed that this will be the LAST OPPORTUNITY of securing the direct from the breeder, Joseph Scott, Eaq., of from the breeder, Joseph Scott, Eaq., of the OLD CHAMPION THEODORE. as the few young caives now at Repean Towers, and the progeny of the few cows that are in calf to him will probably be kept for stud purposes in the proprietor's Caliandoon hord, on the Macintyre River.

The Theodore stock are known far and wide, and ar famous for their character, substance, constitution, an quality; and as the animals are in a particularly health state, the present collection will fully maintain the reputa-tion of the herd.

Catalogues giving full particulars of breeding can be obtained at the Pastoral Exchange, corner Hunter and O'Connell streets, Sydney.
